List of Problem Statements

1. India has the second largest population in the world, healthcare is important part of better management of human resources which needs analyses of important visualization because that would help to grow a healthy society.

2. Who does the problem affect?

If the healthcare management is poor,

• The patients who need healthcare services

• Doctors who need information about their patients

3. What are the boundaries of the problem?

• The information should be accurate, so that the patients can be treated accordingly.

• Future prediction – What will happen if we make that decision.

• Do all the possible ways to change moving forward.

• Data Analytics require Critical Thinking.

• Want reliable data for analysis

4. What is the issue?

• If we do wrong prediction, many patients' life may be at risk.

5. When does the issue occur?

The healthcare system may be affected when

• There is wrong data

• patients' data is altered

• Low quality of data for analysis

• Lack of commitment and patience

6. Where is the issue occurring?

• Due to lack of research on data for analysis

• If we work without the evidence base

7. Why is it important that we fix the problem?

If we fix the problem,

• Better healthcare to all citizens

• faster response during emergencies

• Better management during disease outbreaks